Lasalle Secondary School Grade 9 students Kaeleb Edmunds, left, and Eric Senechal get set to demonstrate cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) Friday on one of the more than 150 CPR mannequins donated by the Advanced Coronary Treatment Foundation and its various partners, which include Vale, Hydro One and the Ontario Trillium Foundation. The mannequins, which are worth more than $15,000, will replace existing mannequins used to teach more than 3,000 local Grade 9 students CPR and assist with defibrillator training each year.
